

SOME ADVANTAGES OF THE EXTENSION OF THE L. AND E.

While Winchester is Asleep Other Towns are Preparing to Reap Benefit From Railroad Building.

The article in The News about the advantages to Winchester of the extension of the Lexington and Eastern railway toward the mountains toward the Virginia line has caused much comment among the people. The merchants seem to be awakening to the importance of the opportunity. Some of the leading members of the Commercial club are discussing the steps which must be taken. But we are not the only people who are on the outlook for the benefit to come. In a two-column editorial of the Lexington Herald an endeavor is being made to stir up our neighbor. An extract from the editorial on the importance of the L. & E. may awaken some of our sleepers. Here it is:

"There is a prospect that is pointed out in the annual report of the secretary of the Commercial club which Lexington ought to derive great benefit, and that is through the growth that is to take place in the near future in Eastern Kentucky. Lexington merchants should supply the trade of the mountains; Lexington banks should furnish the money to finance their development; both the development of the corporations and the individuals. Both Lexington and Louisville have neglected their opportunities. Cincinnati, and other cities of Ohio and West Virginia have reaped enormous profits from that neglect. Due to the fortunate circumstance that some of the ablest and most enterprising men from the Big Sandy Valley went to Cincinnati, accepted positions in banks and wholesale houses, Cincinnati has secured and maintains an ascendancy in the trade and finances of the Big Sandy Valley, which now makes it more difficult for Lexington and Louisville to secure that trade, than it would have been had we Kentuckians of the lowlands recognized the opportunities and the obligations presented by the highlands of the state.

We believe it to be a conservative estimate that within the next five years a minimum of twenty-five million dollars of outside capital will be spent in the construction of railroads and the development of the coal mines in the mountain counties, which ought to be tributary to Lexington. It is probable that twice that amount will be spent. We shall not be surprised to see the mountain counties of Eastern Kentucky increase more in population in the next five years than has the whole state of Kentucky in the past ten years. If Lexington is wise and progressive, the banks and the merchants, both wholesale and retail, and the schools and colleges of this section ought to derive great benefits from that increase."

SECOND TRIAL OF DEVARY

Who Is Charged With the Killing of Harvey Ewen at Dunaway Church Sept. 19, 1909.

Friday morning Judge J. M. Benton began the second trial of N. B. Devary, who, it is alleged, killed Harvey Ewen at Dunaway on the night of Sept. 19, 1909.

The killing occurred at the Dunaway church after the night services and was the result, it is said, of a quarrel. Devary gave himself up to the officers the day following the shooting and claimed he killed Ewen in self-defense.

This is the second trial Devary has had. The first trial was held last December and resulted in a hung jury. At noon the prosecution had closed and Devary had testified for himself.

MAN IS KILLED IN OKLAHOMA

Thirty-one Are Seriously Injured When Three Cars of a Southbound Train Are Derailed.

DAVIS, Okla., Dec. 16.—One man was killed and 31 were seriously injured when three cars of a southbound Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train were thrown from a bridge into the Washita river, five miles from here, Wednesday afternoon. Floyd Goan, Davis, was killed. Among the seriously injured: Robert Ethridge, Mills county, Texas; P. Jackson, negro porter, Cleburne, Texas; J. W. Oakes, Stockton, Mo.; R. E. McNeely, Kansas City.

Practically every one on the train was hurt, though many in a minor degree. The smoking and baggage cars plunged 40 feet into the river, landing bottom side up. The Pullmans and other passenger cars kept the track.

Two of the injured are expected to die. The wreck was caused by a broken rail.

RICH MERCHANT IS KIDNAPPED

Innocent Solis, Noted Bandit, Demands $6000 as a Price for the Restoration of the Prisoner.

HAVENA, Dec. 16.—Senor Crisencio Perez, a wealthy merchant of Santi Spiritus, Santa Clara Province, was kidnapped by the bandit Innocent Solis, and $6000 is being demanded as the price for the restoration of the prisoner.

Senor Rafael Benitez, a merchant of Havana, was captured by bandits in Remedios, Santa Clara Province, Monday, and was only freed after $1500 had been paid. He was illly treated, and when restored to his friends was badly wounded.

Innocent Solis, who is the captor of Senor Perez, is a notorious bandit known some times as "El Guerrillero." Last summer he obtained $4000 a ransom for a son of Manuel Lopez of Ciego de Cuidá.

Solis was once a policeman in Havana and is a veteran of two revolutions. He was in prison in 1909 serving a term for burglary when released under the amnesty act.

FATAL RESULT OF EXPLOSION

Eight Miners Are Killed in Mine and Lives of Four Members of Rescue Party Snuffed Out.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Dec. 16.—Explosions of gas in the Green mine, near Tacoma, Va., Wednesday morning entombed eight miners and when Superintendent Barrowman and three bank bosses went to their rescue four more lives were snuffed out by the deadly "damp."

Wednesday night ten blackened bodies were taken from a lower level and brought to the surface, where hundreds of women and children await in vain for husbands and fathers. Most of the bodies were identified, among them being Superintendent Barrowman, who gave up his life in the cause of his employees.

The explosion was due, it is said, to the opening of a gas seal on one of the levels. Following the report of the first explosion James Barrowman, superintendent of the mine and three bank bosses, rushed to the mine and ordered the car lowered to assist in the work of rescue.

Shortly after they were lowered a second explosion occurred, in which the rescuers lost their lives. It was an hour after the second explosion before an attempt was made by the second party of rescuers to enter the mine, and then only those equipped with oxygen helmets were allowed to enter.

Several trips were made by the party into the mine before any one was brought to the surface. Finally one miner was found near the entrance, where he had crawled, maimed and delirious.

Rescuers from the nearby mines arrived on the scene at 1 o'clock and took an active part in reaching the entombed men.

Much anxiety in that vicinity is expressed for a man named Brown, a gas expert from Pittsburgh, who, it is said, was at Tacoma Wednesday. It is said Brown was seen to get in the mine car with Barrowman as a member of the rescue party. Nothing has been heard from him since.

A government mine rescue car from Knoxville, Tenn., reached the scene about 11 o'clock Wednesday night. It is in charge of Foreman A. R. Brown and E. M. Owens. Rescue parties with complete equipment immediately set to work.

LAWYERS ENGAGE IN FIST FIGHT

Following Introduction of Ghastly Evidence, Body in Fine State of Preservation.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Dec. 16.—The court was startled and the crowded room stood aghast Wednesday when a body was carried in at the instigation of District Attorney Thames, and was offered in evidence by the state in the celebrated case of Miss Rosie Minor, charged with the murder of George Smith last October. It developed that the body of Smith never had been buried and had been held at a local undertaker's awaiting the trial.

The sudden move of Mr. Thames caused a craning of necks. Having been embalmed the body was in a fine state of preservation and the state hoped to get it introduced as evidence.

Judge Moulner was taken unawares, but promptly ruled that the body was not admissible as evidence. Without any further interruption District Attorney Thames directed the four men who had borne the body into the room to carry it back to the undertaking establishment. Miss Minor was affected by the sight. Following the incident Albert Bonelli, a lawyer, and Newton Cook, grand jury bailiff, engaged in a fist fight.

FATAL MISTAKE OF PHYSICIAN

One Child Is Dead and Another Dying as a Result of an Overdose of Poison.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 16.—An overdose of atropine sulphate caused the death of Johnnie Staley, aged 6, Wednesday. It was prescribed by mistake by an interne at the city dispensary. Chester Staley, younger brother of the dead boy, took a dose of the same drug, and is in a critical condition. According to the statement of Mrs. C. J. Staley, the mother, she went to the dispensary for medicine for the two children.

Mrs. Staley said the interne told her to give the older boy seven drops. Mrs. Staley had no medicine dropper, but carefully dropped the medicine from the bottle into a glass filled with water for Johnnie. Chester was rebellious, and said he did not want to take any "bad medicine."

"Watch me take it, Ches," said Johnnie. "I'll show you how to get it down."

With one gulp he swallowed the bitter dose. Chester demurred, and according to the mother, in resisting, swallowed only a part of the dose containing five drops. His childish resistance probably saved his life.

In accounting for his mistake in giving an adult's dose to a child, the interne said that during the night before he had been nervous. He arose and obtained a textbook on prescriptions, and attempted to study until he was sleepy. He said that he remembered when Mrs. Staley called of reading the atropine prescription just before he finally fell asleep, and he duplicated for her the prescription he had read.

BADGER GAME IS FORESTALLED

Victim Escapes by a Ruse, After Being Held Up by Young Woman and Her Husband.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—After having been bound and gagged as he was about to leave a luxuriously appointed apartment in the Cairo, whither, according to the police, he had been lured by an attractive young woman, and confronted, it is claimed, by a series of photographs of himself and the woman, while her husband, at the point of a revolver, commanded him to sign a check for $5,000 Henry Rosenthal, senior member of Rosenthal & Levy, escaped by a ruse and gave the police information which enabled them, they say, to capture the most daring "badger game" workers ever known to have operated in this city.

Police arrested Wednesday Jas. R. Knott, aged 20 years, while the latter was trying to collect $2000, the amount promised by Rosenthal after he told his persecutors he could not give them the $5000 for which he had signed a check the night previous.

Later, the detectives arrested Mrs. James B. Knott at Tacoma Park, where she was waiting to get her husband, presumably to leave the city.

The capture of Knott and his wife had scarcely been effected when detectives went to the Knott apartments and arrested Knott's brother and Alton Armstrong, 20 years old, an electrician, who says his home is in South Dakota. All the members of the band are locked up at the First Precinct station, and held on the charge of blackmail, with the exception of Benjamin Knott, who is held in $1000 bond as a witness.

Knott and his wife have been married only since the latter part of October.

Rosenthal is said to be very wealthy.

COMPLIMENTS JURY COMPOSED OF WOMEN

Prominent Olympia Women Form Jury Which Is Said by Judge to Be Very Superior.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 16.—Sitting in the jury box without removing their hats, five prominent Olympia women listened to testimony and arguments of lawyers trying the case of A. Koch, a milkman, against Pools & Canfield, street contractors. Koch claimed that a blast set off by the contractors caused his team to run away and do damage to the extent of $10.05.

Six women were called, but Mrs. E. B. Graves, president of the Humane society, sent a physician's certificate stating she was ill. The court excused her, and by stipulation the other five were selected to try the case.

After being out an hour the women returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff awarding the full amount of damages asked.

According to attorneys here this is the first time in Washington, if not the United States, that a female jury drawn from a venire of women only has been selected to try a case. Judge Giles, of the justice court, who presided, declared that the jury of women is superior to any jury that ever sat in his court.

TO PROMOTE CAUSE OF HER RELIGION

Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy Left the Bull of Her estate. Directs That In Debtedness on Church Be Paid.

CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 16.—"For the purpose of more effectually promoting and extending the religion of Christian Science as taught by me," Mary Baker G. Eddy, in her will filed Wednesday, makes the Mother Church of Boston her residuary legatee after various other bequests are paid.

Among these other bequests is one of $100,000 to the Christian Science board of directors to be held in trust for the purpose of providing free instruction for "indigent Christian Scientists."

In addition to the previous gift made to her son George W. Glover, of Lead, S. D., $10,000 is given him in the will and the same sum is given each of his five children.

Dr. E. J. Foster-Eddy, her adopted son, gets $5000; Calvin A. Frye, $20,000, and there are several more bequests of $1000 to $3000 each to relatives and to attendants of the Eddy household.

By codicils Mrs. Eddy directs that an indebtedness upon the church edifice of the Second Church of Christ Scientist, in New York shall be cancelled from her estate and bequeaths her "crown of diamonds" breastpin to Mrs. Augusta A. Stetson of New York.

The will filed Wednesday was executed on Sept. 13, 1901, and re-executed as an original will Nov. 7, 1903, the previous will having been lost or misplaced. There are two codicils, the first dated Nov. 5, 1903, and the second May 14, 1904.

SECOND FIRE IN LAGRANGE

Causes Death of Mayor Charles McDowell and Injury of Two Men. Big Property Loss.

LAGRANGE, Ky., Dec. 16.—A second fire which broke out here Wednesday night not only caused a loss of between $15,000 and $20,000, but resulted in the death of Mayor Charles McDowell and the injury of two men.

Mr. McDowell, who was one of the leading druggists, as well as the chief executive of the town, was killed by a chimney falling on him while he was watching the progress of the flames about 4 o'clock Wednesday morning. The two injured men are Chas. Fisher and Alfred Fisher. Chas. Fisher was seriously cut with an ax while chopping down a small frame building in the path of flames and Alfred Fisher was badly hurt by falling glass. Neither of the men is fatally injured.

The fire broke out shortly after 1 o'clock in the roof of Soper's undertaking shop, where it is supposed to have been smoldering since the fire of Tuesday night. Soper was in his store at the time the fire started and when it was discovered the roof was almost ready to fall in. He barely succeeded in escaping with his life.

From the undertaking shop, which was destroyed, the flames spread to the Home Telephone office, burning it to the ground and wiping out Young's barber shop and Dr. R. B. Cassidy's office and residence.

The one-story frame jewelry shop of J. T. Brown was torn down to stop the progress of the flames and it was while engaged in this work that the two Fishers were injured.

It seemed for a time that the entire block would be destroyed and help was asked from Louisville, the fire department responding promptly. After hours of hard work the flames were gotten under control, but continued to burn until after 4 o'clock. The fire wall of Numer's store stopped the fire's progress and saved several of the buildings on that side of the blaze.

Mayor McDowell's death occurred after the flames had practically been subdued. He and several friends were standing near one of the ruined buildings when a chimney toppled. The men with him saw the chimney start to fall and called to him to jump. He was too late, however, and before he could move he was buried under the debris. He is survived by his wife and several children.

THOUGHT WIFE WAS SLEEPING

George Spencer Later Discovered He Body, With Life Extinct, Still Claspng Babe.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 16.—With his stiffening arms claspng her two-months-old child, the body of Mrs. Geo. Spencer lay for two hours, surrounded by four other children, desperately ill with the measles. The father, a laborer out of work, was performing the duties of the household and believing his wife sleeping did not disturb her.

Unable to obtain steady employment, Spencer took his family to a two-room cabin on the outskirts of the city. The dwelling is remote from other houses and when he found his wife dead he was afraid to leave the children alone to call assistance. Distressed in his sad predicament he waited for a passerby whom he might hail. No one coming, he finally ran to the nearest house and told his story. Relief soon came and the sick children were cared for by charity organizations.

Poorly nourished and clothed, Mrs. Spencer, contracted pneumonia, but managed to keep up and care as best she could for her sick children until Saturday night. Taking the baby in her arms and two other children in the bed with her she laid down for the last time. When neighbors went into the house soon after Spencer had given the alarm they found the sick children still on the bed with the body of the mother. One may die.

MARKETS

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Wheat: Yesterday was a bull day in the entire grain list. Bull leaders bought enough wheat to start a little advance and the short sellers of the week not having made much headway, were quick to cover on the advance. Members who came here from the Northwest yesterday say there is a liberal movement of wheat from farmer elevators. It looks like a half million bushels increase in stocks at Minneapolis and a liberal increase at Duluth. While the volume of trade is light the bull leaders, on no doubt, force a temporary advance if they stand under the market, but the judgment of careful traders is that the swell will be only temporary and that without a change in the character of the news from the Argentine the heavy tone will soon return to the trade.

Corn—Three days' break in cash corn prices shut out country offerings, gave a bull day in the entire grain list. Provisions—Gelt says 20,000 hogs against 27,000 and 29,000 last year. Prices of hogs yesterday showed a packing profit for the first time this season. The pit and local trade are disappointed in the action of the provision market yesterday and went short. We cannot only say regarding the action of the market for the near future that the hog movement will govern.

THE WRONG WORD.

When old Kentucky elects a legislature with intelligence enough to amend the constitution so that her antediluvian and antiquated revenue system can be changed, a new era will have dawned upon the old commonwealth, blessed by nature, but held back in the march of progress
by the mossbacks.—Danville Advocate.

The Advocate is entirely too modest. "Honesty" should be used where "intelligence" occurs. If our taxing system was revised to conform to a business basis just think of what it would do for Danville and other cities.

There would be but one assessor for the whole county. And he would take the school census for the whole county. There would be but one board of supervisors and that to consist of the county judge, sheriff and county clerk, to serve without extra pay. There would be but one tax collector and his work would be done at

There is another thing about our legislative department the Advocate has overlooked. It belongs to the "interests" and everything is fixed in advance. Probably a distinguished former legislator from Boyle county, now of Washington, D. C., could give the Advocate some pointers about how it is done.

It is not more brains that we need,
but more honesty of purpose, but so long as we honor men that will sell their vote for fifteen hundred dollars or any other amount we need expect nothing better.

The Democrats don't "view with alarm" so much as formerly.

The great philanthropist, Andrea Carnegie, is such a little man that in crowds he must have a strong man on each side of him to keep from being run over.

The trouble with Democrats generally is that too many of them want to boss the job.

If after the present term of our genial President has expired he is an ex. he will probably reflect that it would have been better to stand by his friends.

We have noticed that more people go to shows and pay for admission than go to church, where the gospel is free.

Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, continues to make a fool of himself. He is kicking now because Judge White, an ex-Confederate soldier, has been made chief justice. Some friend should take Heyburn around the corner and tell him that the Civil War is over.

Ten dollars paid to a workman in wages is worth more to the local merchants than twenty dollars in the hands of a capitalist. The workman spends his money. The capitalist don't.

There are a lot of military post-houses that should be abolished.

About all the good they do is to give jobs to people who are not fit for anything else.

tucky has lost one of her best citizens. He was a leader of men. It was that formed the organization the organization was offered him. I would have been better for all if he had accepted.

NO MORE CATARRH

Phillips Has a Guaranteed Cure That Has Stood the Test of Time.

Catarrh cures come and catarrh cures go, but HYOMEI continues to cure catarrh and abolish its disgusting symptoms wherever civilization exists.

Every year the already enormous sales of this really scientific cure for catarrh grows greater, and the present year will show all records broken.
If you buy a HYOMEI outfit for $1.00 and hide it in a dark cupboard it won't cure your catarrh.

If you breathe it daily as directed it will cure your catarrh or it won't cost you a cent. Ask Phillips.

If you have a hard rubber Hyomei inhaler somewhere around the house get it out and start at once to fore-rid yourself of catarrh.

Phillips will sell you a bottle of HYOMEI (liquid) for only 50 cents; start to breathe it and notice how quickly it clears out the air passages and makes the entire head feel fine.

HYOMEI used regularly will cure catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis or sore throat. A complete outfit, including a hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00. No stomach dosing. Just breathe it. It kills the germs, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane.

Mild filibustering marked the ses-

HELP THE LITTLE

WINDOW WISHERS

Santa Claus Committee of the Associated Charities Are Preparing to Make Glad the Hearts of the Children.

The Santa Claus committee of the Associated Charities has been busily at work for the past few days, and are making arrangements to gladden the hearts of 150 or more little children on Christmas morning.

The committee appointed for the raising of this fund reports that very little has been turned in as yet, but they feel confident that the citizens of Winchester will not "fall down" on this work, but will still continue it as they have done for the last 16 years, though the list is very much larger this year than ever before.

We have heard of a number of little children throughout the city who have been wondering if Santa Claus would come to them this year, and we are authorized to say to all of these little ones that Santa Claus will certainly be there.

One of the good ladies of the town handed us a clipping from the Detroit Free Press, "The Window Wishers," and we are publishing it herewith, and trust that every reader of The News will read it carefully and send in their donation of as much money as they can spare to Miss Sue Peddicord, secretary Associated Charities, or any other member of the soliciting committee. That committee is as follows: C. B. Strother, W. T. Poynter, Jno. M. Hodgkin, R. O. Fitch, J. L. Bosley, J. W. Chambers, John N. Bush, M. D. Royce, John E. Garner, C. H. Loveland, W. T. Ogden, E. L. Upham, Miss Sue Peddicord, John M. Stevenson.

The clipping from the Detroit Free Press is as follows:

The Window Wishers. The little window wishers, with their tender eyes of blue, Standing there before the toyshops, don't they touch the heart of you? Don't you almost shiver with them as their tattered clothes you see, The ragged little urchins, yearning the patches on each knee? Can you see them longing, yearning in sweet childhood's wistful way And forget them in your planning for a merry Christmas day?

Oh, the little window wishers, baby hearts and baby eyes, With their trusting faith in Santa gazing there in glad surprise. At the dollies and the soldiers and the Teddy bears, believing That they will not be forgotten. Can you see them without grieving? Can you think of them on Christmas when the merry morning starts Disillusioned, waking up to empty stockings—broken hearts?

Oh, the little window wishers, looking longingly today

At the wonders in the toy shops in sweet childhood's wistful way, Dreaming dreams of Christmas stockings filled with candies and with toys;

Just as full of faith and fancy as your own girls and your boys, When you see their big eyes glisten as these splendid things they view, Can you rush by and forget them, don't they touch the heart of you?

SOUVENIRS OF SCHOLL'S FORT

Articles Made From Elm Tree of Pioneer Days Given to Friends by Mr. A. C. Barrow.

Mr A. C. Barrow has presented several friends with souvenir articles made from an elm tree that stood by the spring which furnished Scholl's Fort with water in pioneer times; and according to a well established tradition a tree which Daniel Boone tapped. The spring is on the farm now owned by Dr. Driver, but was formerly claimed by Daniel Boone. The old pioneer's claim was defeated because of a prior survey inclosing the same land, and is one of those incidents, so pathetic in his life, by which he found himself a poor man when the country became settled, and which caused his removal to Missouri. He was the earliest settler, but was so busy defending the later ones from the Indians he had no time to make land entries until others had gotten ahead of him in the more desirable locations. The result was he lost most of his entries. The Scholl who built Schollville married Daniel Boone's daughter, and Mr. Barrow is a descendant of that marriage. It is needless to add that the souvenirs are greatly appreciated.

SENATORS JOIN IN HILARITY

When Hon. Lafayette Young, of Iowa, Says Editors and Not Congress 'Rule the Country.'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Senator Lafayette Young, of Iowa, Thursday gave the legislative body of which he has been a member exactly ten days, the surprise of its existence. He had prepared to make an attack on his colleague, Senator Cummins, who seeks the passage of a concurrent resolution changing the rules of the senate and house so as to permit piecemeal revision of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. This he did and more. "Doffing his toga," as he said when he arose, he lectured the grave and dignified senators from the standpoint of an editor, which he is in private life.

The senate gasped and then laughed when Mr. Young told it that the country would feel relieved were congress to adjourn altogether for two "solid" years. It gasped again when he alluded to its members in breezy fashion as "boys" and when he declared that the editors of the country and not congress ruled the country the galleries joined with the senators in general hilarity.

GOD'S GREAT PLAN HIDDEN IN ABRAHAM AND FAMILY.

The Mystery, Covered So Long,
Is Now Made Plain.

Isaac, the Second Son of the Patriarch, Pictured the Heavenly Seed. Ishmael, the First Son, the Earthly Seed.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 1. — Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle visited our city yesterday as the guest of the International Bible Students Association. He gave two public addresses, which were heard by large and intelligent audiences.

We report his address from these words of Scripture: "And Isaac brought Rebecca into his mother Sarah's tent, and she became his wife and he loved her."—Genesis xxiv, 67. When we sometimes speak of Abraham, Isaac and others as types we should not be understood to mean that they were merely types—that the Bible stories respecting them are fictions. A person or thing is a type when, in addition to the actual experiences, the Scriptures indicate that it prefigures or illustrates on a small scale some person or things yet future. As, for instance, Adam in certain respects, as the head of the race, was a type of Messiah, the Second Adam.

The first Adam was the head of our race, but failed to give the eternal life desired. In God's providence Messiah is to be the Second Adam, in the sense that he will regenerate, as his children, all the posterity of the First Adam. Messiah is thus declared in prophecy to be the Everlasting Father of mankind—the Father of Life, giver, better than Adam, and who will give to our race everlasting life, instead of a heritage of weakness, imperfection and death.

Similarly, Moses not only was a real character, the leader of the nation of Israel, but, additionally, he was a type of a greater Mediator—Messiah. As Moses mediated the Law Covenant for Israel, so Messiah, the Prophet like unto Moses, or antitype of him (Acts iii, 22), is to be the Mediator of Israel's New Covenant, under which the Abraham's blessings will reach them and through them reach all the families of the earth (Jer. xxxi, 31).

Similarly, Aaron was a type of the higher priesthood and its better sacrifices connected with the New Covenant. So, also, the under-priests and the Levites, additional to their own experiences, served, in God's providence, as types of the higher institutions by which the New Covenant will be inaugurated shortly.

On this occasion we ask your attention to Abraham, known in the Scriptures as the friend of God, as the father of the faithful, and to his son Isaac, the Son of Promise, born out of the natural order, miraculously, when his mother was old; also to Isaac's wife, Rebecca, selected by Abraham to be the companion and joint-heir with his son Isaac in his inheritance. These personages lived their lives wholly unconscious of the fact that God was using them and overruling their affairs so as to make of them prophetic pictures of his own great Plan of the Ages. These type-pictures are always to be read in full harmony with the inspired writings of the Bible and never to be understood in contradiction of the same.

Abraham a Type of God.
Not everything that Abraham did, however, is to be esteemed typical. In a general way this grand man of the past looms up before our minds as a monument of faith and integrity and justice. The blessings promised to go through him to his Seed, which would constitute him the father of many nations, made of him, as St. Paul points out, a type of the Almighty, from whom flows every good and every perfect gift—from whom proceeds the blessing which ultimately is to flow through Messiah, his Son, and through Israel, his people, unto all the families of the earth.

All Christians, presumably, are aware of St. Paul's interpretation of Abraham and his family as types. As Abraham typified God, so his wife typified the Covenant through which the vitality of the promise ultimately develops the Seed of Promise—Isaac in a type, and Messiah in the antitype. St. Paul also explains that Sarah's servant, Hagar, at Sarah's wish, became for a time her representative with Abraham and brought forth Ishmael. Hagar, St. Paul explains, typified the Law Covenant, vitiated by the gracious arrangements of the same God and Father. And Hagar's son, literally Abraham's first-born, typified the Jewish nation, the first development under the Covenant.

As Abraham loved Isaac and desired a blessing upon him, so God loved Israel and desired a blessing upon Israel, the offspring of the Law Covenant. Nevertheless, as Ishmael, the offspring of the bond-woman, was declared not to be the primary heir of the Abraham's promise, but a secondary one, so the children of Israel, the offspring of the Law Covenant, were not intended to be the Spiritual Messiah through whom the promise declared that the blessing should first proceed.

In the type, we see that Sarah, Abraham's wife, who represented the original Abrahamic Covenant, brought forth a son of her own, Isaac, long years after the bondmaid, her substitute, had brought forth Ishmael. "Then Isaac was born," Sarah repudiated Ishmael and no longer acknowledged him as her son, but, instead, claimed everything for Isaac. The antitype of this is that from the time that God began the development of the Spiritual Israel and set forth the "Covenant by sacrifice," through which this Spiritual Israel would be developed—from that time it began to be clearly manifest that the chief portion of the promise of God to bless the world was not to be fulfilled through the Ishmael Seed, natural Israel, but through the Isaac Seed—Spiritual Israel.

The Well-Spring of Hops For the Jews.
From the first there was manifested a competition for the Abrahamic blessing. And as Ishmael mocked at the infant Isaac, so the Jew, in his considerable development and strength, mocked at the Antitype Isaac—Jesus and his comparatively ignorant and unlearned followers—and persecuted them. In order to continue the type, that Abraham might typify God, he was commanded to send forth Hagar and her son into the wilderness. That sending forth typified the Divine disfavor which came upon the Jews eighteen centuries ago and which has made them outcasts from God's favor, as Hagar and Ishmael were cut off from Abraham's presence and family and care. The bread and water which Hagar took with her, by which she and Ishmael were nourished in the wilderness for a time, pictures and types the promises of God through the Law and the prophets which still belong to the Jew and upon which, for eighteen centuries, he has been nourished, and without which the hope of the nation would have perished.

Now we come to the dire moment pictured in Genesis xxi, 15-19. The water provided by Abraham had been consumed. No more was to be had. Ishmael was dying. Hagar, his mother, separated herself from him. At the opportune moment the angel of the Lord appeared to her and pointed her to a spring of water, where she refreshed herself and Ishmael with new life.

The antitype of this is now to be seen before us. The Jewish people, separated more and more from the Law and the Prophets, are becoming weak and faint as respects hope. They are about to die! But no, the Lord graciously points out a well-spring of the water of life at this critical moment. As Ishmael was rescued from death by this water, so the nation of Israel, whom he typified, is now about to find in the providence of God that their portion of the Abrahamic Covenant is the earthly one, not the heavenly one, not the spiritual. They are about to be refreshed and to enter upon a new career. That career, however, will not mark them as Ishmaelites, nor will their New Covenant relationship be symbolized by Hagar, the Old Law Covenant. Therefore they are represented under a new type.

Isaac Was Heir of All.
If, at first, our Jewish friends might be inclined to feel disappointed that they were represented in Ishmael, and not in Isaac, by the Hagar Covenant, the Covenant of bondage to the Law, instead of being formed free from the Law, there is a consolation. Their consolation is that Isaac typified the Messiah and that Israel is pictured as the nation on whose behalf Messiah will mediate the New Law Covenant. The Messiah must be spiritual, in order to be able to confer the great blessings indicated in the Covenant made with Abraham. The nation of Israel never expected to be spiritual and had no such promise in the Bible. To the Jews will come exactly what they have always been expecting—greatness as an earthly people, honor as the elect nation through whom the New Covenant blessings will be opened up to all the world of mankind—the Gentiles.

As already pointed out, Isaac, the son of Abraham, typified the Messiah of glory, the Son of God and heir of all the promises—the one through whom alone eternal life may be obtained and restitution to that perfection which will enable Israel and the world to keep the gift of God, eternal life, according to their New Law Covenant—and through its great Mediator—Messiah.

Election Type of the Holy Spirit.
In due time, Abraham sent his trusted servant Eliezer (typical of the Holy Spirit) to select a Bride for his son Isaac. Eliezer might not go anywhere. He was directed to go only to those of Abraham's family, thus implying that none would be called to be the Bride of Messiah except such as were already in relationship to God through faith, obedience and justification. When the servant had found Rebecca he put upon her certain jewels, explained to her and her relatives the nature of his mission, and asked her if she was willing to come and be Isaac's Bride. He said, My master, Abraham, is very rich and all that he hath he hath given unto Isaac.

Thus the great riches of God are again illustrated in Abraham and the fact that Messiah is his Son and the heir of all the promises of God, the One through whom Israel and all mankind shall be blessed. Rebecca promptly responded and thus betrothed herself to the unseen Bridegroom and hastened with the servant to Isaac. As her kinsfolk bade her goodbye they wished her a blessing in these words, "Be thou the mother of thousands of millions" (Genesis xxiv, 60).

We read that "Rebecca arose and her damsels (maids, servants) and they rode upon the camels and followed the man Eliezer."

Here we find, in harmony with other Scriptures, a picture of this Gospel Age, and its work of bringing to ones. First amongst these saints were some of the Jewish nation, according to the Divine Rule; as the Scriptures set forth—"to the Jew first." This Bride class has been selected from every nation, people, kindred and tongue, yet in all will be but a little flock—"Fear not, little flock. It is your Father's good pleasure to give you the Kingdom"—the spiritual, unseen Kingdom of Messiah—joint-heirship with him in his throne—not the earthly Kingdom which has been promised definitely to Israel.

The Bride Class and the Great Company.

Other Scriptures have shown us that there are two classes amongst these saints. A few, peculiarly devoted, will constitute the Bride class. And a larger number, not so courageous of the Truth and righteousness, will constitute her companions, her servants, as Rebecca travelled accompanied by her servants. These two classes are particularly specified in the Scriptures (45th Psalm), where we read of the Messiah-Bride and Queen. In her resurrection glory she is pictured as the Queen robed in gold of Ophir with the needlework—the glory representing the divine nature which will be granted her and the fine needlework representing her glorious righteousness, embellished with the fruits of the Holy Spirit. The Psalmist tells how she shall be brought into the presence of the great King Jehovah and then adds that the virgins, or companions, that follow her shall also be brought into the presence of the King, showing that there will always be a difference of rank on the spiritual plane. These two classes are again pictured in the Law as Priests and Levites, the Bride class being represented by the Priests, owing to their willing sacrifices of the earthly portion in favor of the heavenly.

We are not to identify the Bride class with the nominal Christian Churches of today any more than we would identify the Apostles with the Jewish Church of their day. The Apostles were a select few, and similarly all the members of the Church throughout the Age have been a select few out of a nominal many. "The Lord knoweth them that are his." The true Church has been selected, not only from all of the twelve tribes of Israel, but from every other nation, people and tongue, even so many as the Lord our God has called.

Rebecca's leaving her father's house typified the personal consecration of each one who, led of the Spirit, accepts the Divine invitation to joint-heirship with Christ. The first Jewery given to Rebecca, when first she heeded the invitation and invited the servant to her home, represents the earliest blessing received by believers. The Jewery she received after she had decided to go to Isaac and become his wife represents the blessings of the Holy Spirit which come upon the fully consecrated, those who determine to walk in the footsteps of Jesus in the narrow way into the Kingdom, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

Arrived at the end of her journey, she found herself in the presence of Isaac, and immediately alighted from her camel and covered herself with a veil. Thus, pictorially, is represented the fact that the Church, when having experienced the change of the First Resurrection and in the presence of the heavenly Bridegroom, will no longer need the guidance of the Holy Spirit, through the Scriptures. This part of the picture, of course, is yet future. The Scriptures, however, indicate, and outward conditions corroborate the fact, that the time of this glorious change is nigh at hand.

To Be the Mother of Thousands of Millions.

Isaac immediately received Rebecca and took her into his mother's tent. Sarah had died and Rebecca became her successor. Thus is beautifully pictured the fact that when the Bride of Messiah shall be complete on the plane of glory, the Sarah Covenant will be at an end and her place, as a channel of blessing, will be taken by the glorified Church. Then will be fulfilled the prophetic blessing of her relatives, "Be thou the mother of thousands of millions." Those thousands of millions represent the world of mankind, which will be regenerated, or granted new life by the great Messiah during the thousand years of his reign as the Mediator of the New Covenant.

Messiah will be the regenerator and his Bride will be the nourisher, instructor, helper of all mankind under the New Covenant, because it will be this antitype Isaac and his Bride that will mediate for Israel, and through Israel for the world, the New Covenant of Restitution blessings (Acts iii, 19-21). "In thee and in thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed," applies primarily, as St. Paul shows, to Messiah and his Church in glory—the sacrifices being past, the spiritual nature being attained as a reward for the sacrifices (Galatians iii, 16, 29).

Whoever will first receive Messiah and come into harmony with the righteous laws of his invisible Kingdom will be the first to be blessed. There will be no partiality in this matter, for God is no respecter of persons. However, because of their past experiences and earthly hopes and trust in the Law and the Prophets, the Jews will be the first amongst the nations to accept the new order of things and ally themselves with it; therefore, to them will the blessings go first and through them, as instruments of the Kingdom, the blessings will extend to all.

While thanking God for the glorious prospects of that glorious time which is nearing, let us, dear friends, seek to make our calling and election sure to membership in the Body of the Bride of Christ.

Lesson XII.—Fourth Quarter, For Dec. 13, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxviii, 1-20.
Memory Verses, 5, 6—Golden Text, Matt. xxviii, 20—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Those who know nothing of a risen Christ know nothing of faith or forgiveness of sins or life eternal and have no gospel to believe or preach (1 Cor. xv, 14-19). It was the one great topic of Peter and Paul in all their preaching. "This Jesus hath God raised up." "The Prince of Life, whom God hath raised, from the dead." "With great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus." "The God of our fathers raised up Jesus." "Him God raised up the third day and showed him openly." "God raised him from the dead" (Acts ii, 24, 32; iii, 15, 26; iv, 10, 33; v, 30; x, 40; xiii, 23, 30, 33; Rom. i, 4). Hear the Lord Himself to John in Patmos long after He had ascended. "Fear not. I am the first and the last; I am He that liveth and was dead, and behold I am alive forevermore, amen, and have the keys of hell and of death" (Rev. i, 17, 18). In Col. iii, 1, believers are spoken of as "risen with Christ" and are exhorted to seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

After He died Joseph of Arimathea went to Pilate and asked for His body, and he and Nicodemus took it and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, with about 100 pounds weight of spices, and laid it in Joseph's new tomb and rolled a great stone to the door and departed. The women from Galilee, having seen where His body was laid, returned and prepared spices with which to anoint His body when the Sabbath should have passed and rested the Sabbath day. Was there ever a gloomier Sabbath to any believers? He in whom they had trusted as their Messiah, to whom they had lovingly ministered, for whom they had forsaken all, had been taken from them and crucified by the authorities as a wicked person, and now they were in great darkness, without any hope, for they looked not for His resurrection. "Having no hope and without God in the world" (Eph. ii, 12) is the condition of so many religious people today because they know not a risen Christ.

The first day of the week having come, they are found very early at the tomb to do what they had purposed for His dead body, but the tomb is open, the stone rolled away, and there is nobody to anoint, for as the angel from heaven said to the women: "Ye seek Jesus who was crucified. He is not here, for He is risen, as He said." Mary Magdalene, who came with the other women, seems to have run to tell Peter and John as soon as she saw that the tomb was open and the body gone. While she was gone the other women saw the angels and heard their message and went to tell the other disciples. Peter and John ran to the tomb, and having seen for themselves that it was empty, the linen clothes lying just as when the body was in them, they went away again unto their own home (John xx, 3-10). Mary Magdalene returned to the tomb and stood weeping; then, stooping down and looking in, she saw two angels and heard them say, "Woman, why weepest thou?" Even as they spoke to her I think that she saw them looking beyond her, and turning around, she saw a man whom she supposed to be the gardener, who also said to her: "Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou?" But not until He called her by name did she recognize Him. Thus He appeared first to Mary Magdalene even before He had ascended to the Father (John xx, 16-17) in His resurrection body. As she went to tell that she had seen Him He, having ascended and returned, met the other women and allowed them to hold Him by the feet and worship Him (verse 9). Part of the angel's message to the women was, "Go your way; tell His disciples and Peter" (Mark xvi, 7), the only one mentioned specially by name. Some time, somewhere, on that day He appeared to Peter alone (Luke xxiv, 34). In the afternoon He appeared to the two who walked to Emmaus, and He walked with them and opened to them the Scriptures. In the evening He appeared to ten of them (Thomas being absent), comforted them, showed them His hands and His feet and ate a piece of broiled fish and honeycomb before them (Luke xxiv, 36-43). Thus He appeared five times on that day, and we know that He appeared on at least five other occasions during those forty days. "He showed Himself alive after His passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God" (Acts i, 3).

At the end of the forty days, having commanded them to wait in Jerusalem "till He should send them the Holy Spirit," He visibly ascended from the Mount of Olives, and when He shall come again to that same mount, bringing His saints with Him, Israel shall receive Him, and He will set up His kingdom (Acts i, 10-12; Zech. xiv, 1, 5, 9). Our commission during His absence is to be His witnesses in the power of His Spirit, in all the world, in the consciousness of His presence and the manifestation of His power, that from all nations may be gathered His body, the church that so He may come again (Acts i, 8; Matt. xxviii, 18-20; Acts iii, 19-21).

J. H. KEYES,

WINCHESTER, KENTUCKY.

FROM W. J. LAMPTON.

Kentucky stands fourteenth of the states in population. Glad it was not thirteen.—The News.

Worse than thirteen is the fact that while Kentucky is fourteenth in population, she is forty-fourth in the rate of increase for the past ten years, only four other states being less. Is that creditable to a state as large in area and population as Kentucky is?

Incidentally, I should like to say that J. H. Keyes writes a very good story for a new hand at it, and when he has practiced pruning and acquired the art of uninterrupted movement towards the nub of his story he ought to be able to appear in the best magazines—and he will, if the editors like his work.

"Lame Duck" is a stock exchange term originating in England, and means about the same in business as in politics—busted. Yours,

BEAUTIFUL HOME TALENT PRODUCTION

Is Given Under the Auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and Supervision of Mr. A. L. Baker.

The beautiful Indian opera, "Powhatan," which was presented by local talent at the opera house Thursday evening was a splendid success.

The scenic and costuming effects, which were under the supervision of Mr. Albert L. Baker, were very beautiful and lent a barbaric splendor to the setting.

Mr. Fred Dakin as Powhatan (king of Virginia and chief of 30 tribes); Mr. Otto Hise as the Medicine Man (heavily armed chief); and Mr. W. K. Reese as the Pathfinder (heavily armed chief) were the principal male characters of the Indian tribe, while Mr. Louis Hampton, as Capt. Rolfe, and Mr. Albert Baker as John Smith, impersonated two jolly rovers from the ship Fearless in quest of adventures in the great American forest. Other characters, all of whom played their parts with admirable skill, were: Mr. Charles Venable as 'Ansome' Harvey (the Terror of Mugwump); Mr. Cullum Foster as Cliff Gudnuff (first sailor of the ship Fearless); and Master Gilman Womack as Crazy Orse, (leader of the band).

The star role of Pocahontas, daughter of Powhatan, the Indian chief, was enacted by Miss Kate Rash in her usual charming manner, while Miss Winnie Garrett as Laughing Star, also a daughter of Powhatan, and Miss Genevieve Conway as Song Bird, Miss Anna Wills as Winona Girl, and Miss Allen Crutcher as Minnehaha, were greeted by rounds of applause from the appreciative audience. Miss Ellen Bush presided at the piano, and accompanied the musical numbers with great skill.

A splendid chorus of warriors and sailors was composed of Earl Cantler, Robert Fitch, Wm. Harding, Robert Carr, Marvin Wright, R. Wright, Graham Johns, Cullum Foster, Andrew Bruce, Wm. Crutcher, Gilman Womack and Clarence Bean.

Members of the pretty chorus of Indian maidens and Tom-Tom girls were Mamie Scrivener, Beulah Elkin, Rosa Templeman, Dorothy Porter, Bessie Conkwright, Alice Farris, Nancy Farris, Anna Stoner Rash, Katherine Nunan, Mrs. Neppie Dakin, Nancy Jett, Minnie Glass, Mary Donahue, Anna Wills, Beulah Thompson. Each of these young ladies displayed grace and talent in the performance of her assigned part.

Among the most notable of the musical numbers of the first act were the solo, "King of the Forest Am I," by Powhatan; solo, "While Brushing Off the Mountain Dew," by the Pathfinder and chorus of Indians; a charming solo by Pocahontas, and duet by Capt. Smith and John Rolfe.

In the second act Miss Genevieve Conway as Song Bird sang a charming lullaby, the juvenile part being taken by Babe Peggie Cleland, who acted her part naturally and was greeted by rounds of applause.

A solo by Miss Allen Crutcher as Minnehaha, "Beware of the Paleface," found great favor with the audience, as did the song by Smith and Rolfe, "So Never Say Die," just following their capture by the Indians.

Capt. Rolfe sang "Who Is It Steps This Way," at the approach of Pocahontas, who followed with a pretty solo, "This Stranger's Interesting. Quite."

Powhatan sang, "I See My Braves: You Die! You Die! You Die!" and following the plea of Pocahontas to spare the lives of the white men rendered "I Do Forgive for Love of Thee, My Child."

The pretty young feather dancers who by their songs and drill so delighted the audience, were composed of Marie Bloomfield, Grace Womack, Mary Edmonds, Nancy McCoy, Henrietta Bedford, Elizabeth Hays, Ruth Sewell, Nancy Loveland, Catherine Day, Anna Nelson, Beulah Drake, Marguerite Courtney, Amy Deirich, Rosa Day, Louise Kohlase, Virginia Joutet, Eleanor Taylor, Lillian Jones, Bessie Haggard, Josephine MacNeill, Elizabeth Stewart, Morene Morrow, Margaret Wills and Helen Bowen.

In the third act the Medicine Man, Pathfinder and chorus of Tom-Tom girls sang "Out West One Night" as the opening number.

Winona Girl, who has a charming soprano voice, sang "That's the Question You Must Answer: Are You a Single or a Married Man?" meanwhile singling out individual members of the audience with a ray of reflected light from a mirror. She was forced to respond to several encores.

The labyrinth evolution which was gracefully stepped by the papposes, made an instant hit with the audience. The children participating were: Phoebe Day, Martha Haggard, Mildred Hodgkin, Morene Morrow, Fannie Cobb Scott, Ora Gaines Allen, Mary Porter, Louise Davis, Mary Agnes Gordon, Laura Tomlinson, and Francis Rawlins.

"We Are the Sailor Lads, You Can See," was sung by Cliff Gudnuff and sailors, following their arrival to the rescue of Smith and Rolfe, and Powhatan answered with "Mighty Powhatan Receives the Great White Chief."

The solo by Capt. Smith, "It Points That Way," was one of the most laughable and enjoyable features of the occasion. The final curtain closed with this chorus, and Capt. Smith still taking notes in this "Little Book."

A repetition of this beautiful opera will be given at the opera house at popular prices on Saturday afternoon.

The entertainment is under the auspices of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and it is to be hoped that fully as large and enthusiastic an audience will attend on this occasion as was present Thursday night.
